

SOFT TISSUE MODELLING WORKSHOP

7th – 9th June 2023

James McCune Smith Learning Hub, University of Glasgow, Scotland, U.K.

The Sixth Workshop will take place in person at the University of Glasgow where it will continue the lively forum on the most recent advances in the field of soft tissue mechanics, with a clear vision of the landscape of multiscale soft tissue modelling and both fundamental and translational research. It will also provide a unique environment for interdisciplinary dialogue, enabling the sharing of novel ideas and expertise necessary for the future advancement of soft tissue modelling. The workshop is supported by the EPSRC centre SoftMech.
